TWENTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1918.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE,
OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS,
*Washington, October 19, 1918.

SIR: In compliance with the provisions of section 61 of the general printing act approved January 12, 1895, I have the honor to submit the Twenty-fourth Annual Report of the Superintendent of Documents, being for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918.

The work of the Documents Office for the year, involving a distribution for departments of 44,668,164 publications; the sale of 7,853,886 copies, for which $250,362.35 was received; the handling of 297,334 letters calling for information on all matters pertaining to United States Government publications; the compilation of official catalogues and price lists; and the maintaining of 1,150 mailing lists containing about 1,000,000 names was accompanied with many difficulties and hardships through the loss of a number of our experienced employees.

The clerk problem is daily becoming more serious, owing to the low salaries paid. The Civil Service Commission is unable to supply clerks and cataloguers at the salaries we have to offer, and although permission has been granted to employ from the outside we have been unsuccessful in filling vacancies.

It is earnestly hoped that Congress will remedy the present condition in the next appropriation bill so as to permit us to offer salary inducements of a nature sufficiently inviting to retain those experienced in our work, and to cause acceptance of positions in this office in the face of the salary allurements offered by other, and especially the new, departments.

The research and information features of this office are being used more extensively each year, and countless inquiries by letter, telephone, telegraph, and by personal inquiry have been answered. The body of inquirers embraces all classes of our people—Members of Congress, departments, Army and Navy officers, agriculturists, scientific men of all classes; and above all, the bulk of the inquiries has come from individuals in the ranks of the plain people, who, as a body and individually, are coming more and more to recognize the usefulness of this office as a distributing point for Government publications.

LIBRARIES.

The demand from libraries for relief from the overburdened condition of their shelves with excess Government publications continues to grow. Some remedy must soon be found to relieve the libraries of their present burdens, and to allow all libraries which meet certain requirements to obtain only those Government publications for which they actually have need.

There is a gradual decrease in the number of designated depositories which under the law are entitled to receive one copy of everything published for general distribution. This no doubt can be attributed to lack of shelf room to accommodate the publications which amounted to 2,447 copies during the past year for each library. The underlying motive which prompted Congress to provide for the establishment of one library in each Congressional district was theoretically good; but time has proved that in a great many districts libraries can not be found that are in a position to care for the enormous quantity of publications received under such designation.

Requests from nondepository libraries of the country have been freely supplied, but unfortunately this office receives for general library distribution a stock of only a small percentage of publications at the time they are printed. It is hoped that some time one agency will be established that will be in a position to take care of the demands from the libraries.

Below is a statement of library distribution for the fiscal year 1918:

CATALOGUES, INDEXES, ETC.

The following publications have been compiled and issued during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1918: Document Index, No. 24, Sixty-fourth Congress, Second Session, December 4, 1916–March 4, 1917; Seventeenth Preliminary Schedule of Volumes, Reports and Documents of the Sixty-fifth Congress, First Session, April 2–October 6, 1917, and the Special Session of the Senate, March 5–16, 1917; Document Index, No. 25, Sixty-fifth Congress, First Session, April 2–October 6, 1917, and the Special Session of the Senate, March 5–16, 1917; Monthly Catalogue, July, 1917–June, 1918.

The Document Catalogue, Sixty-third Congress, 1913–1915, is in press.

Twenty-nine price lists of United States Government publications on various subjects for sale by this office have been compiled, totaling 151,000 copies, and 155,267 copies have been distributed.

DISTRIBUTION OF DEPARTMENTAL PUBLICATIONS.

During the past year there were received for consignment stock of the departments 52,948,516 publications, and the records show a distribution of 44,668,164, which was an increase of 7,727,151 copies over that of the previous year. This represents the largest number of publications handled since the work was placed under your supervision, and any advocates of a return to the old plan, whereby each department performed its own mailing operations, may well stop and consider the additional cost that would have been involved in hauling the publications to their respective departments and then back to the post office, whereas now direct communication is had with the post office by means of a conveyor, which deposits the publications in the mails without cost for hauling, and with the expenditure of the minimum amount of labor.

It is my intention to recommend in the estimates for the coming year a lump-sum appropriation for all labor necessary in making the distribution of Government publications, so as to provide for overtime work, which is absolutely necessary to prevent congestion and delay that can not be avoided in a plant where the manufacturing operations continue for 24 hours and those for distribution for only 8 hours. Notwithstanding the increase in this branch of our work, it has been performed with very few complaints from the issuing offices, and in some cases the delay was unavoidable on account of shortage in the envelope stock.

Comparative statement showing number of departmental publications received and distributed during the fiscal years 1913 to 1918, inclusive.

ACCUMULATION OF PUBLICATIONS.

The best evidence of the Government's faulty distribution methods is disclosed by the return of 277,624 publications from libraries and departments during the year, and this number would easily have been doubled if we had been in a position to handle them. It must be recognized that considerable labor is required to assort and list these returned publications, and of the number above mentioned 233,836 were condemned and sold as waste paper for the reason that they were either obsolete or in excess of any possible demand.

The letter which you addressed to the departments in the beginning of the year, urging a careful consideration of their stock of publications for the purpose of disposing of excess and obsolete copies found on hand, met with favorable action on the part of most of the departments, with the result that relief was obtained from our congested storage conditions.

Notwithstanding your efforts to reduce the stock of publications held for departments, the books show a balance on hand to the credit of the various departments at the close of the fiscal year of 22,703,565, which is an increase of over 8,000,000 from the previous year, and the fact that we have been able to accommodate them is due to the publications being of the small pamphlet variety.

MAILING SECTION.

There is no circulating department of any publishing house in the country which compares with that of the United States Government, with 1,150 different mailing lists totaling over 1,000,000 names.

Two of our lists, namely, the Official Bulletin with 115,000 addresses and the Congressional Record with about 30,000 names, are run daily, and such constant use of the stencil is a very good test as to its durability. We believe the new equipment you authorized to be installed will meet the requirements.

The inability of the Civil Service Commission to supply typists has delayed the transferring from the old system to the new stencils, but the available force has made considerable progress.

The mailing operations for the year called for over 80,000,000 impressions to be made from the stencils on wrappers, envelopes, and cards, and the maintenance of the list required the addition of 328,500 names and the dropping of 208,829 names.

CONDITIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

Notwithstanding the conditions imposed by the war (an important feature of which has been inability to replace by trained help the clerks called into the service and otherwise leaving), the large volume of business has been kept up to date by the persistent hard work of those remaining. Every condition points to the conclusion that when the war is over and men resume their accustomed occupations, the business will advance again by leaps and bounds; and as now constituted the expansion would tax the resources of the office, both clerical and mechanical. It seems advisable, in the face of our past lessons on "preparedness," to make ready for meeting the emergencies now by training a competent force and securing sufficient equipment. To the clerks and helpers who have labored with me to keep up the work and to uphold the prestige of the office, I wish to offer my heartiest commendations.

Respectfully submitted.

JOSIAH H. BRINKER,
Superintendent of Documents.

HON. CORNELIUS FORD,
Public Printer.
